Chestnut Filly, (Apr), by Mizzen Mast - Vesper Cat by Mountain Cat. Trainer Donk G. David. Bred by Mr. & Mrs. Theodore Kuster & Mr. & Mrs. Howard Roberts(KY).

STRIKE THE BELL was reserved while judiciously saving ground around the opening bend, was guided into the two path soon after reaching the backstretch, bided her time while continuing along from out there, was asked to pick up the pace, while beginning to angle further out, gearing up for the stretch run, fanned four wide into the lane and was immediately called for more run, after being straightened away, rapidly closed in on a tiring pacesetter, went by a couple of strides leaving the furlong grounds, and edged away from that point under confident handling. QUIET MEADOW patiently stalked the runaway leader from a distance during the run down the backstretch, closed the gap, along with the rest of the field after entering the turn, was put to encouragement for the initial time in the vicinity of the three-sixteenths pole, wasn't able to keep pace with the top one during the last furlong but finished willingly nonetheless to garner place honors. SCOLARA unhurried while racing in midpack, was asked for a response at the five-sixteenths pole, angled three wide into the stretch and rallied with good energy en route for the show. CHESTORIA took the inside route, was put to a hard drive from the quarter pole and rallied well enough to earn the last major share. SWEETER STILL (IRE) bobbled at the break, raced three wide around the far turn, was called upon in the lane but was outfinished. C. S. SILK sped off under her own power to a lengthy advantage, was unable to maintain the swift pace, and saw the lead dwindle down departing the half mile pole, reached the eighth pole still in front, but steadily weakened thereafter. KRISTI WITH A K saved ground and was no factor. MERIWETHER JESSICA away well from the starting gate, raced three wide around the opening bend, gradually dropped back during the run down the backstretch, turned for home from the four path, but failed to deliver any stretch offering.
