The weights, owners' and trainers' names, and the colours to be worn by jockeys, have been added for convenience and are not guaranteed to be correct.

Fundamentally, the characteristics of Ascot remain unchanged by the redevelopment undertaken in 2005, though the straight mile course has been moved back forty-two metres, slightly altering the position of the winning post. In addition, the racing surface on both the straight and round course is new, and the road crossings have been removed. The Ascot round course is a right-handed, triangular circuit of fourteen furlongs, with a run-in of 2½ furlongs. There is a straight mile course, over which the Royal Hunt Cup is run, and the Old mile course which joins the round course in Swinley Bottom. All races shorter than a mile are normally decided on the straight course. From the mile-and-half starting gate the round course runs downhill to the bend in Swinley Bottom, where it is level, then rises steadily to the turn into the straight, from where it is uphill until less than a furlong from the winning post, the last hundred yards being more or less level. The straight mile is slightly downhill from the start and then rises to the five-furlong gate, after which there is a slight fall before the junction with the round course. Despite the downhill run into Swinley Bottom and relatively short run-in from the final turn, the Ascot course is galloping in character; the turns are easy, there are no minor surface undulations to throw a long-striding horse off balance, and all races are very much against the collar over the last half mile. The course is, in fact, quite a testing one and very much so in soft going, when there is a heavy premium on stamina. In such circumstances races over two miles to two and three quarter miles are very severe tests.

DRAW: Traditionally, there is no strong draw bias on the straight course at Ascot. Over the years, a low draw hasn't proved difficult to overcome in races over a mile or more on the round course, even in largish fields (runners often race wide when the going is soft).

STALLS: Stand side — straight course.

Ten of the eighteen are winners but none has achieved the level of form required to win this event (average TRW is 121). The highest-rated horse with a 'p'—those with most scope to bridge the gap—is Silk Blossom (106p).

Result: Once-raced Sander Camillo (81p) confirms her debut promise to land a gamble. Silk Blossom is a creditable second at 7/1.

Two stand out. Top-rated Papal Bull (138) and Red Rocks (135p) are both well up to the standard required (the average TRW is 133). Sixties Icon (129p) is the only one close enough on the ratings to be a potential danger.

Result: A 1,2,3 for Timeform ratings, Papal Bull (5/4) winning from Red Rocks (3/1) and Sixties Icon (8/1).

A cracking renewal of the Coronation Stakes with the winners of four 1000 Guineas and the first past the post in the French version. Most of the classics were run on much softer ground, however, and Timeform has kept faith with Nannina (132) on her two-year-old form, saying she 'appeared unable to handle soft ground when well beaten in 1000 Guineas, eased right down . . . worth another chance to show herself a leading filly.'

Result: Timeform top-rated Nannina wins at 6/1 from Flashy Wings, another who couldn't cope with the soft at Newmarket.

Another strong handicap on paper, but the Timeform top-rated Linas Selection—'should stay 1½m'—has a 'p', denoting there is even more to come. Only one other runner has a 'p' so Linas Selection looks something to bet on at 9/2.

Result: Linas Selection romps home from 50/1-shot Enjoy The Moment.
